

Player Leaderboards

Player Leaderboards

Player leaderboards are a great way for you keep track of all of your players kill/death data. In this chapter we will go over the types of leaderboards we can call and also how to wipe them for those all important wipe days! These leaderboards are displayed as interactive embeds, showing up to 10 players per page.

PvP Leaderboards

PvP Kills

Using the command /lb pvpkills we can call the leaderboard for the current top PvP players:-

The screenshot shows a Discord chat interface. At the top, a header bar reads "gameserver Show leaderboard for this gameserver". Below this, a command input field shows "/lb pvpkills" with "gameserver" as the selected server. The chat log shows a user "AE-CM" used the command "/lb pvpkills". The resulting embed is titled "VereTech | RCE Bot" and includes a "BOT" badge and the timestamp "Today at 21:07". The embed content is titled "Top PvP Kills" and features a trophy icon. It lists the top 8 players with their respective PvP Kill counts:

Rank	Player Name	PvP Kills
1.	xPercivil	10
2.	johnny5ive-awsom	10
3.	DesignByVinny509	8
4.	TTV_Rxtro_Slays	7
5.	Kenzie jay11	7
6.	Crussell-Rowe	7
7.	Jollies_	5
8.	DarkShadow48935

PvP KD

Using the command `/lb pvpkd` we can call the leaderboard for the highest K/D ratio across all PvP kills:-

PvP Deaths

Using the command /lb pvpdeaths we can call the leaderboard for the highest deaths in PvP action:-

A screenshot of a Discord chat interface. At the top, there's a header bar with "gameserver" and a link to "Show leaderboard for this gameserver". Below this, the chat area shows a message from "VereTech | RCE Bot" (verified bot) sent at 21:13 today. The message displays a "Top PvP Deaths" leaderboard. On the right side of the chat, there's a large white rectangular area, possibly a placeholder or a redacted image. At the bottom of the screen, there are navigation controls for the chat, including back, forward, and search icons.

Wiping the Leaderboards

At the end of wipes, whether that be blueprint wipe, map wipe or even wiping after an event, using the command /pl wipelb* and selecting your server we can wipe the leaderboards back to zero for that fresh start:-
